Divorce Off Again—In 1935, Mrs. Mary L. McDevitt Bigelow filed a divorce suit against her Boston clubman husband, Stephen Sohler Bigelow, charging cruel and abusive treatment. Later, she dropped the action. In 1938 the same thing happened, second petition being taken off the list today.

Seven more persons, making a total of nine, surrendered today as a result of sweeping indictments returned yesterday by the "blue ribbon" grand jury in its probe of Revere rackets and racketeers.

First arrivals at state police headquarters, Commonwealth Pier, were William L. O'Brien, Jr., 35, of Beach st., Revere; Max Gorfein, known also as Jacob Turransky, 45, of Nahant ave., Revere, and Joseph Tattleman, 34, of Chelsea.

They were notified at the Revere dog track late last night of the indictments. Today they accompanied State Detectives Raymond Foley and Theodore W. Johnson and Detective Colman Joyce of Boston police to state police headquarters.

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., June 15 (AP)—United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy sailed today on the liner Queen Mary to give President Roosevelt a report on the European situation. He expected to return to England July 5.

Stores to Remain Open on Friday

Boston department and specialty stores generally will be open all day Friday, June 17, according to an announcement of the Retail Trade Board.

THE WEATHER

Partly overcast tonight and Thursday; not much change in temperature. (Full report on Page 2.)

Several hours later today, four others surrendered at Commonwealth Pier.

They were Peter (Big Peter) Hedstrom, said to have been with David J. (Beano) Breen when he was slain last December in a Boston hotel; Morris Rosen, Samuel Langford and Archie Engle.

Entombed Pair Saved

ASHLAND, Pa., June 15 (AP)—A father and son, trapped in a makeshift mine since early Monday, were brought out today by rescuers.

"Thank God, I'm out of there," were the father's first words. His son was too weary to speak.

A physician said both Peter Shinkowsky, 48, of Shenandoah, and Peter, Jr., 17, appeared to be in good condition.

As in the case of the first three, they were admitted to $500 bail each, with Joseph J. Fahey, Boston bail commissioner, accepting the bonds. They will appear tomorrow in superior court to make pleas.

None of those surrendering would comment on the charges against them.

Meanwhile, in Revere, Patrolman William C. "Chick" Gibson, long attached to the vice squad and one of those indicted, denied he had made any statements indicating he planned to appear at

Forget War as China Flood Toll Mounts

SHANGHAI, June 15 (AP)—Both Chinese and Japanese armies were fleeing today before a Yellow river flood that could not be stopped either by guns or bombs.

Spilling through immense breaches in the river dykes between Chengchow and Kaifeng, the flood waters rolled for miles across the flat plains of Honan Province, recognizing no man-made barriers and carrying disaster to millions of Chinese peasants as well as to armies.

Japanese war dispatches said fully 300,000 Chinese civilians had been made homeless and estimated 150,000 civilians had drowned.

Hundreds of floating corpses were declared to be visible, and Japanese troops were turning from war to life-saving, participating feverishly in building rafts in an effort to save Chinese peasants stranded on high ground and house-tops.

FARMERS TRAPPED

Tragedy long familiar to China was being enacted as farmers, fleeing before the relentless current, were trapped and drowned in their homes and fields.

Delayed Japanese dispatches said the rapidly-rising flood was coursing in a southeasterly direction from Chungmow. It was believed the towns of Yushih, Tungssu and Kihssien soon would be directly threatened.

Flowing over the east-west Lunghai railway, in some places at a depth of five feet, the on-rushing waters interposed a complete barrier to a Japanese advance upon Chengchow.

For the moment Kaifeng, to which Japanese troops had been forced to retreat, was declared to be safe, though surrounded by high water.

Japanese military spokesmen offered no information on exact whereabouts of their troops in the flood area.

LIVES IN DANGER

The Japanese army spokesman said "more Chinese civilian lives than the Japanese could ever jeopardize by bombing are being placed in immediate danger."

An estimated 30,000,000 refugees already were streaming westward from war-demolished homes before water forced out other thousands from scores of villages.

About 350 miles south of the flood area Japanese continued a relentless drive up the Yangtze River toward Hankow.

At Kiukiang the U. S. gunboat Monocacy stood by to protect American interests despite Japanese warnings to third powers to remove their ships from the area newly-declared a war zone.

Worse Than War?

NEW CHINESE HORROR—Rapidly rising waters of the Yellow River in China are reported to have taken more than 150,000 lives, ruined some 300,000 homes. Typical Yellow river flood scene is shown here. The new flood hinders Japanese invaders and Chinese defenders alike.

He took with him a mass of data concerning the latest developments in Europe's troubled affairs and will lay this information before President Roosevelt. He gathered considerable inside "dope" in personal talks with scores of diplomats here.

Yesterday the ambassador went to Ascot to attend the opening of "Ascot Week," the world's most exclusive and expensive race meeting, in the presence of King George and Queen Elizabeth.

For the ever-important task of representing the United States at the Court of St. James, and helping guide British-American relations, Kennedy in the three and a half months since he assumed his post has been uniformly acknowledged by diplomatic circles to be eminently fit.

CHARMS DIPLOMATS

He has been acclaimed in all classes of British society which make up and influence the governmental machinery that runs the British Empire.

Even those cautious diplomats distrustful of most Americans find themselves charmed against their will by the blunt-speaking, fiery-tempered ambassador with a dash of ice-cold restraint in his makeup. Bankers and businessmen have hailed him as their own.

Never in recent years has an American ambassador in London had such close contacts with the government from the prime minister and key members of the cabinet to officials of the foreign office.

AMERICAN OUTLOOK

Mr. Kennedy's popularity is the sensation of London. But there is no evidence this has gone to his head. He has lost nothing of the American outlook or the knowledge of the fear and unwillingness of

Love Laughs At Luckenbach! Edict Defied

PORT WASHINGTON, N. Y., June 15 (INS).—Mr. and Mrs. William Forbes Dobbs were honeymooning at sea today aboard the yacht "Isle Morada." They were a wedded symbol of love - laughs - at - a - Luckenbach.

For the pluck of the Luckenbachs held today - held, that is, for tempestuous, 18-year-old Andrea Fredericks, whimsically known as "Bubbles." If not for her father, Commodore Edgar F. Luckenbach, multi-millionaire seafaring man of the old school, who pounds a heavy fist and whose ruddy face is adorned with a white goatee.

"Bubbles" had a hard time of it, but she married the man of her heart, and that man is a salesman of butter and eggs, whom she has loved since she was a little girl of 14. Unblessed by the Commodore, the ceremony was performed in the home of Mrs. Adolf Garmi, Great Neck, L. I., wife of a Grace line steamship official, by the Reverend Richard Haggerty, pastor of the Methodist Church of Port Washington.

"WE'LL GET ALONG"

Dobbs slipped a wedding ring of plain platinum on her finger. After the ceremony Bobs said: "We're not worrying. We'll get along somehow."

The ports of call on their honeymoon cruise are a secret.

Mrs. Dobbs' original wedding plans were cancelled when the Rev. Dr. William Grime, who was to have officiated, called off the ceremony.

Rev. Haggerty performed the ceremony only after several other Long Island clergymen had turned down the distraught young couple.

License difficulties were solved when the enterprising bridegroom got a lawyer, and appeared in Supreme court with a plea of special dispensation. A waiver of the 72-hour provision was granted.

STILL DEFIANT

Miss Luckenbach, however, showed no signs of weakening. She had nothing to add to her earlier defiant declaration of independence.

"I've been disowned, but I should worry. I don't care if I ever hear from papa again."

In three years, Mrs. Dobbs will inherit $1,000,000 from the estate of her mother.

Fete King Gustaf On 80th Birthday

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 15 (AP).—Sprightly King Gustaf V, center of the week's festivities in honor of his 80th birthday Thursday, slept late today.

Long past midnight, the tennis-playing monarch had watched 800 prominent socialites dance at the most brilliant ball of the season. Tomorrow representatives of the whole nation will pay homage.

Send Regrets to John, Anne

2 Chums Can't Act as Ushers

By MARJORIE McBRIDE

Two of John Roosevelt's Harvard chums are sorry, but they just can't come, as they promised, to be ushers at his wedding Saturday.

John ruefully announced that disappointment today as he chatted with newspaper representatives at the Nahant home of his fiancée, Anne Lindsay Clark.

The invited ushers, who sent last minute regrets, are John Roberts Clark of Bala-Cynwyd, Pa., and Elliot Cowdoin Bacon of Westbury, L. I.

Both have "previous engagements."

John Clark (no relation to Anne) is at Red Top, Ct., training with Harvard crew.

And Elliot Bacon, catcher on the Harvard varsity baseball team, will be playing against Dartmouth, Saturday, at Hanover, N. H.

JOHN'S SORRY, TOO

John Roosevelt made it plain that he's sorry his college pals won't be on hand to see him through his big moment at the church.

But he was philosophic about it, too, apparently sharing with John Clark and Elliot Bacon the Harvard undergraduate conviction that varsity boat races and ball games are a lot more important—at least to participants—than the honor of being attendants at America's most publicized wedding of the season.

Furthermore, John Roosevelt wasn't in any position to be critical, either, for he recently cancelled an ushering engagement of his own.

He had promised to be an usher at the wedding of his classmate, Marshall Field, Jr., June 20, but was obliged to call it off when he realized the date would conflict with his own honeymoon.

JUST A LIEUTENANT

Another little private disappointment, which John also confessed today, had to do with his lowly status in the U. S. Marine Corps.

John said he received honorary appointment to the corps at the time of his birth, when his dad was Secretary of the Navy.

"That makes you an older Leatherneck than your brother, James," a reporter commented. "Yes, but he's a lieutenant-colonel—and I'm still only a lieutenant," John explained.

But John devoted most of his press interview today to a review of arrangements made for taking care of visiting Roosevelts and other notables and family friends. A nonchalant figure in his usual costume of unpressed gray slacks and checked tweed sport coat, the President's youngest son demonstrated his inherited executive ability.

JOHN FIXED IT

Without notes or written lists, he rattled off a seemingly unending "Who's Who" of important names.

He told what hosts and hostesses

Engagement Denied

ROMANCE

REFUTED—

Sally Clark, sister of Anne Lindsay Clark, was reported ready to keep the romance theme alive in the Clark family.

But her rumored engagement to George McLanahan of New York was denied today by Mrs. F. Haven Clark.

Deny Romance Of Sally Clark

Sally Clark, sister of Anne Clark, bride-to-be of John Roosevelt, is not engaged at present nor is there any contemplation of her engagement.

This was the declaration today of Mrs. F. Haven Clark of Nahant, mother of the two girls, in response to a report from New York that Sally's betrothal to George McLanahan, scion of a wealthy Gotham family, would shortly be announced.

"There is no truth whatever to the report," Mrs. Clark said. "Sally certainly isn't engaged to anyone now and I don't know of anyone she's going to be engaged to."

Sally is in Nahant for her sister's wedding Saturday. McLanahan has been her constant escort at night spots in New York, where she is studying art and dancing.

Eleanor Blue For First Lady

NEW YORK, June 15 (INS).—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's favorite color—Eleanor blue—will predominate in her "romantic ensemble" for the wedding of her youngest son to Anne Lindsay Clark at Nahant, Mass., Saturday. The gown selected by the nation's First Lady is of Eleanor blue crepe with an overdress of navy-blue net and a bolero of Eleanor blue chantilly lace.

Mrs. Roosevelt selected a picture hat of navy-blue net, banded with heavy velvet and Eleanor blue grosgrain. Elbow length gloves and a bunch of pale blue lilacs-of-the-valley at the waist complete the ensemble.

Father of Boy Victim Testifies

MIAMI, Fla., June 15 (AP)—The evidence against Franklin Pierce McCall, confessed kidnaper of five-year-old James Bailey Cash, Jr., was presented today to a judge who had authority to send him to the electric chair.

Cash, Sr., and federal agents detailed their story of the crime while Judge H. F. Atkinson listened intently, preliminary to deciding upon the sentence.

McCall, 21-year-old truck driver and ministers son, who pleaded guilty to the ransom kidnapping charge but innocent to a murder indictment, hung his head and held a handkerchief to his eyes as the hearing proceeded.

The father, as the first witness, testified briefly that he had a child, that "he is buried" now and that he identified the pajamas found on the body, which he did not "view himself."

SEARCH SPECTATORS

The federal agents detailed McCall's signed confession that he stole "Skeegs" from his bed May 28, with handkerchiefs over his mouth and eyes, that the boy died accidentally and that he collected the $10,000 ransom.

Every precaution was taken for the prisoner's protection as he was brought to trial.

Two hundred or more persons, half of them women, thronged the corridors outside the courtroom. Inside, policemen searched each man and matrons "frisked" the women.

McCall came into court with a serious expression, wearing a blue shirt and tie and a gray suit. His uncle, the Rev. A. C. McCall, of a Methodist church near Bradenton, and a brother from Valdosta, Ga., sat near him at the defense table.

CALLS BOY'S FATHER

State Attorney George A. Worley, was attended by a nurse. He called James Bailey Cash, Sr., as his first witness.

Worley led the father through details of a search for the lad, leading to discovery of the first of three ransom notes.

Cash said the note was turned over to the federal bureau of investigation and later returned to the kidnaper in the shoebox in which the $10,000 ransom was paid.

NEAR COLLAPSE

Cash also identified the other two notes, and the white and rose-striped pajamas the boy was wearing when he was stolen from his bed.

"When did you first know definitely the boy was dead?" Worley asked.

"About a week later, when I was told by the sheriff and the FBI."

"Did you identify the body?" Here Cash hesitated, his chin quivered and he seemed near breaking down but finally answered:

"Well, I saw his pajamas."

Mrs. Wilson P. Cash, an aunt, followed the father to the stand. She testified only briefly.

Inspector E. J. Connelley of the FBI detailed the two statements McCall made—the first admitting only the writing of the ransom notes and collection of the money, and the second making a complete admission of the kidnapping.

G-MEN ON STAND

"Did the federal agents have McCall's help in searching for the boy?" Worley asked.

"Yes, we talked of places where the body might be, and McCall suggested an area as the most logical place to search. He took us to several places and finally to the thicket where the body was found."

"We didn't find it at first. J. Edgar Hoover took McCall aside and asked him to point out the exact spot. We searched the center of the thicket and found the body."

"What remark, if any, did McCall make when he looked at the body?"

"At that time, when looking at the body, he said, 'Why, that dirty —'"

It was indicated McCall attempted to pretend someone else had killed the boy without his knowledge.

The prisoner sat at the table with his head down and a handkerchief to his eyes. At intervals he removed the handkerchief to wipe perspiration from his face.

Babson Stirs Church Parley

RELOIT, Wis., June 15 (AP)—Harmony of the convention of the general council of Congregational and Christian Churches in the United States, opening today, was threatened by a factional split over a proposed new form of delegate representation.

Conflict loomed between the executive committee and its moderator, Roger W. Babson, Boston economist, who announced he would offer a motion at the opening session to abolish district and state representation in favor of delegates appointed from each member church or parish.

"I feel America is in need of some sort of a spiritual revival," Babson said. "Not the Billy Sunday kind of affair, of course. Today everybody wants to ride in the car and no one wants to pull it. It's the idea of getting along without working."

Then they left on a honeymoon to Canada, after which they will reside in Newton.

Connolly is connected with a well-known store chain.

It's No Crime To Play Bugle

SPRINGFIELD, June 15 (AP)—It's no crime to play a bugle of any other instrument, including a bass drum, in your own home, Judge W. J. Granfield said today in fining Ernest Banks $25 for assaulting a Boy Scout bugler.

Bernard J. Fellion, 13, the bugler, testified he was practicing on the porch of his home and that Banks rushed up, knocked him down and caused his nose to bleed. Banks described Fellion's efforts with lungs and bugle as a nuisance.

'Honest Error' Plea Fails To Win New Holdup Trial

For the second time in 11 weeks, Harry L. Hubbard, 46, of Mt. Vernon street, Somerville, father of seven children, was today refused a new trial for an armed robbery he claims he did not commit.

Hubbard was convicted last fall of participation in the robbery of a $600 payroll at the Agar Manufacturing Company, Somerville, on September 29. He was sentenced to five to seven years in State Prison.

On March 30, he was denied his motion for a new trial, and today Judge George F. Leary, despite testimony by a witness that he had "made an honest error" in identifying Hubbard, denied a second motion for new trial.

Attorney Thomas D. Lavelle, representing Hubbard, asserted he would file a motion requesting Judge Leary to give his reasons for denying the new trial motion.

Meanwhile, secret service men, Massachusetts state police heads, Metropolitan District Commission officials and Nahant town authorities were making final arrangements for guarding the President's arrival.

Flood Debate Bogs Congress

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—Senator O'Mahoney (D.) of Wyoming resumed a talking marathon on the $375,000,000 flood control bill today.

His determination and that of some of his colleagues to force changes in the measure threatened to delay congressional adjournment beyond tonight.

Senate Majority Leader Barkley, asked when adjournment might be reached, would say only, "wait and see."

O'Mahoney said he was "not concerned with a filibuster" against the bill but asserted he did not know how long the speech-making might continue.

STATES' RIGHTS

His attack was on provisions which he claimed would abrogate states' rights.

Administration chiefs thought they had arranged a quick cleanup of remaining legislation to let members catch midnight trains for home—and reelection campaigns.

With the wage-hour bill finally enacted the Senate gave partial approval last night to the $375,000,000 relief and public works bill.

Ten, shortly before 2 a. m. (EDT), the $375,000,000 flood control bill provoked a round of lively Senate debate which participants called "discussion" and administration lieutenants described as "filibuster."

PASSED BEFORE

The bill already had been passed by both Senate and House, differences had been compromised by a joint committee, and the House had accepted the compromise.

In controversy in the Senate, however, was a provision requiring the government to bear the cost of dam and reservoir construction, plus the cost of condemnation proceedings. States would not be required to put up any money.

The government would be given broad condemnation powers for flood control projects and could build dams in one state even if other states would receive most of the benefits.

The wage-hour bill, one of President Roosevelt's major recommendations, received a lopsided 290-10-29 vote of approval yesterday in the House. The Senate, without even bothering to call the roll, sent it on to the White House for the President's assured signature.

Wage Bill Awaits Roosevelt Signature

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—Only President Roosevelt's signature was needed today to start an unprecedented federal program for nationwide regulation of industrial working hours and minimum pay. Congress approved compromise legislation late yesterday after Senate debate that left little doubt the law soon will encounter a Constitutional test in the courts.

The act is calculated to fix the minimum pay and maximum hours of 750,000 industrial workers, as well as the hours of another 1,300,000 unaffected by the wage provisions. It will go into effect 120 days after being signed by the President.

Harvard Boys Plead Guilty

Out of a disturbance which interrupted the Flag Day parade of Cambridge Lodge of Elks, four Harvard Law School students were arraigned today in Cambridge court.

Arthur L. Adamson, 24, Garden City, N. Y., and Fred P. Smith, 23, Burlington, Vt., pleaded guilty to charges of drunkenness and disposition was continued until next Monday.

Morse Johnson, 23, Cincinnati, and Robert F. Clark, 22, Grand Falls, Mont., pleaded guilty to drunkenness and were charged, in addition, with attempting to rescue prisoners—Adamson and Smith. Johnson and Clark were held in $500 for a hearing next Monday.

According to police, Adamson and Smith burst into the Elks-parade as it entered Cambridge Common.

Police quieted the pair and were leading them to a patrol box when a rescue attempt got under way. The arresting officers then seized Johnson and Clark.

The Elks parade was further annoyed in Harvard square when a Nazi and a Chinese flag were unfurled from a building housing graduate students. The celebration followed final examinations at law school.

gress struggled toward adjournment today, apparently determined to extend no further aid to the nation's railroads, a number of which are doomed to "go through the wringer" of receivership and reorganization unless some sort of aid is forthcoming.

Let "us go," seemed to be the attitude on Capitol Hill.

The off-projected and off-rejected proposal to liberalize the lending powers of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, where the carriers are concerned, appeared to be dead, although there still was some talk of revival should the session continue beyond tonight.

Lose Hope On Flood Bill

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—New England Senators gave up hope today of a successful filibuster against the flood control bill they said invaded states' rights.

Privately they conceded they would be unable to return the bill to committee despite protests against it from the governors of Maine, Vermont, Washington and North Carolina.

Senator Hale (R.) of Maine read a telegram from Governor Barrows of Maine, declaring the bill would "give the federal government ownership and control of all resources."

'Cowardly Act,' Lewis Brands House Rebuff

WASHINGTON, June 15 (INS)—

The action of the House rules committee in blocking revision of the Walsh-Healey government contract act to permit blacklisting of corporations, was assailed today by John L. Lewis, CIO chief, as "cowardly and pusillanimous."

Lewis made his statement a few minutes after Speaker Bankhead had refused his demands that the House consider the measure under suspension of its rules.

Teh CIO chief, talking to reporters on the threshold of this speaker's office, declared that to him it seemed "rather cowardly for Congress to hide behind the rules committee, which is unfriendly to labor and notoriously friendly to corporations."

To the members of Congress themselves, Lewis delivered this warning:

"In a short time Congress will adjourn and many of the members will return to their districts seeking support as friends of labor. We want to know how good a friend they are before we give them our support."

The highly controversial measure would amend the Walsh-Healey act to permit the Labor Department to blacklist industry holding government contracts, when they failed to obey National Labor Relations Board decisions.

Today Lewis, following a brief conference with the speaker, said: "We asked the speaker to recognize a motion to suspend the rules and vote on the Walsh-Healey bill. The speaker was disinclined to grant the request."

"We hold that Congress has a right to vote on that measure and the people have a right to know how Congress stands."

Constitution Fete Planned by N. H.

CONCORD, N. H., June 15 (INS)—

War Disrupts Her Plans

Little Gloria At Newport

NEWPORT, R. I., June 15—Now it's troubled world affairs, instead of family troubles, that are interfering with 14-year-old Gloria Vanderbilt's plans.

GLORIA VANDERBILT
Worry, Worry, Worry

So she's here at the summer home of her aunt, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, with a long-anticipated trip to Europe deferred because of unsettled political conditions abroad.

When you're 14 and just through school and good and sick and tired of humdrum routine of being a poor, little rich girl, you look forward to exciting things like taking a boat and meeting new people.

ONLY CHAUFFEUR

But something is always turning up to dissuade Gloria.

Take, for instance, her recent graduation from fashionable Greenville school, at Roslyn, R. I.

Proud parents of all the other girls were there, but only Gloria's chauffeur saw her receive her diploma.

Her mother, Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt, was U. S. bound aboard the Queen Mary and other relatives didn't attend the graduation because they're not speaking to each other since the court squabble which put Gloria in the custody of Mrs. Whitney.

The worst of that old bitterness is over now, of course. And it's likely Gloria and her mother will see a lot of each other this summer, here at Newport, since it's been agreed that Mrs. Vanderbilt and her daughter can visit at will.

BEING 'IMPROVED'

But when there's peace in Gloria's family, European dictators have to start back fence bickering, putting trips abroad in the too-long category of things that just aren't being done this season.

Anyhow, Gloria's aunt, Mrs. Whitney, is reported to feel that a summer in Newport's impeccable social atmosphere will do Gloria good.

Being "improved," though, when you're 14, is pretty tedious business.

ELSIE ROBINSON, writes from the woman's viewpoint, discusses every-day affairs and problems, regularly in the Boston American.

Cash Tied Up In UAW War

DETROIT, June 15 (INS)—The five suspended officials of the CIO's United Automobile Workers Union drew first blood in their fight against International President Homer Martin today by tying up union funds in a local bank.

The union is reputed to have $100,000 in the bank.

One of the five officers suspended by Martin in Washington Monday was George Addes, secretary-treasurer of the international union. His signature was necessary to draw funds from the bank, but Martin appointed Delmond Garst to act in his place and said Garst's signature would be honored.

Today, however, a bank official disclosed the bank would refuse to honor Garst's signature.

Addes, with the other suspended officers—Vice-Presidents Richard T. Frankenstein, Wyndham Mortimer, Frank Wells, and Ed Hall, has announced a war on the Martin administration.

State Socialism Seen in Russia

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—The federal bureau of mines said today Communistic control of industry and labor in Russia was unbalancing living standards and leading toward state socialism.

Child Wins $8000 for Auto Hurts

A three-year-old plaintiff won awards totaling $8000 today in two Suffolk civil court auto damage suits.

Leg and hip injuries sustained by the child, Margaret Mansfield of Underhill street, Winthrop, were the basis of her claims for damages.

Witnesses testified the child was hit by an automobile owned by Gertrude Solomon of Woodford street, Worcester, and driven by Mrs. Solomon's husband.

The accident occurred in Winthrop, July 18, 1937, while little Margaret Mansfield was waiting on Underhill street for her mother, Mrs. David E. Mansfield. Struck as she stood with one foot in the gutter and the other on the sidewalk, the child received a fractured pelvis and other injuries, according to testimony.

Auditor William C. Maguire found little Margaret entitled to damages of $4000 from Mrs. Solomon and $4000 from Mrs. Solomon's husband.

CHOLERA KILLS 12,000

LUCKNOW, India, June 15 (AP)—One of the worst cholera epidemics in modern history has taken 12,000 lives in the past seven weeks in the United Provinces.

These observations were made in a report on Soviet production of minerals, which the bureau said was so unsatisfactory as to have a "sobering" effect on the Moscow government. The whole 1938 industrial plan, it added, was drawn up on a comparatively modest scale as a result.

"After 20 years of Communism in Russia," the report said, "instead of a uniform standard of living among the population, one sees a difference in living standards sometimes greater than that to be found in so-called capitalist states."

"The tendency in the Soviet Union today is toward state socialism, with party leaders, acting as government officials, serving as head of the (industrial) enterprises. There was a strong trend by the end of 1937 in the direction of administrative and operative decentralization."

Instead of planned profits of 150,000,000 rubles from steel and allied industries in 1937, the report said, Russia actually lost 60,000,000 rubles. It blamed waste of raw materials, mechanical breakdowns and overdrawings of wage funds.

Langer Sees Nazis at War

NEW HAVEN, June 15 (INS)—An eventual conflict between England and Germany was predicted by Dr. William L. Langer, professor of history at Harvard University, in an article, "When German Dreams Come True," published today in the Yale Review.

When Hitler settles his problems in Central Europe, the British may find that they have been living in a fool's paradise," the professor said.

Central Europe cannot furnish the raw materials needed for modern industry and despite Hitler's scathing denunciation of colonial policy, he realizes that ultimately autarky can be achieved only by securing raw materials abroad, the article said.

Many Balkan states are already well disposed toward Germany, he said. Hitler has turned toward this area instead of Russia because that country has not collapsed, the article said. Hitler had hoped its downfall would pave the way to German expansion.

Cordoba Front Battle Resumes

HENDAYE, France, June 15 (AP)—A surprise insurgent offensive in southern Spain today imperiled government defenses between two widely-separated fronts. While Generalissimo Francisco Franco's forces pushed retreating government militiamen south of the Mijares river, below Castellon de la Plana on the eastern coast, another insurgent army advanced on the southern Cordoba front.

Castellon Refugees Pour Into Valencia

VALENCIA, June 15 (AP)—Valencia was overwhelmed today by an ever-growing stream of hungry, war-impoorished refugees from Castellon de la Plana and Castellon Province. The bull ring, many theaters and every building that could be evacuated to make room for them was packed with the 15,000 already arrived.

They brought tragic stories of hours of terror spent in dodging bombs and machine-gun bullets from insurgent warplanes.

Nazis Seize Hundreds of Jews in Raids

BERLIN, June 15 (INS)—Nazi Germany's latest systematic anti-Jewish drive flowered in raids along the Kurfuerstendamm—Berlin's famous street which compares with London's Piccadilly Circus or New York's Broadway.

Boarding houses were visited by Gestapo (secret police) agents and brown-shirted storm troopers. A fashionable Kurfuerstendamm cafe received a visitation in the drive which netted several hundred Jews as prisoners. Other parts of the reich capital were also visited by raiding squads.

Renewed Nazi activity against the Jews, curiously enough, came just as Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, laying the cornerstone of a new tourist building, the first step in the architectural "reconstruction" of Berlin, envisaged the Reich capital as the future mecca of world travelers.

Glass tinkled as rioters smashed windows of Jewish shops in Berlin's East End while Hitler talked. And although Nazi quarters denied knowledge of new anti-Jewish measures, the official news agency gave wide prominence to the Reichsfuehrer's speech.

Pressure against the Jews was renewed as blanks were made available to all "non-Aryans" at police stations to comply with Field Marshal Hermann Goering's decree requiring registration of all Jewish-owned property in excess of $2000.

Russell Wood In State Race

By ALFRED D. WHELTON

Russell A. Wood of the Cambridge school committee, filed nomination papers today for state auditor, his second attempt since 1936, when he was defeated by the present auditor, Thomas H. Buckley.

Republican candidate that year, Wood polled 810,396 votes to Buckley's 872,214.

Wood's career has been long and varied—and interesting. He has been a member of the Cambridge City Council and served several years in the state Legislature.

Last month he figured prominently in a controversy over "tax-methods" used by authorities at the Peabody School, Cambridge, to protect children molested by perverts, one of them a 16-year-old boy in the school.

Leaders Pay Rugg Tribute

Hurley Leads Mourners At Rites in Worcester

WORCESTER, June 15—The courthouse where he presided so often was closed today and draped in mourning as funeral services for Chief Justice Arthur Prentice Rugg of the Massachusetts Supreme Court were held in the First Unitarian Church across the street.

From the street, itself, all traffic was barred for hours before the distinguished jurist's body was ceremoniously borne to the church and thence to its last resting place in Oak Hill Cemetery, Sterling.

Governor Hurley led the impressive delegation of state and federal officials who came as mourners.

JUDGES ARE BEARERS
Honorary bearers were six active and two retired supreme court justices.

They were Justices Fred T. Field, Charles H. Donahue, Henry T. Lummus, Stanley E. Qun, Arthur E. Dolan and Louis S. Cox and retired Justices John C. Crosby and Edward P. Pierce.

The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Maxwell Savidge, pastor of First Unitarian Church. He also conducted brief private services at the Rugg home.

COURTS CLOSED
Bennett headed the Worcester representation, Henry Broderick, Sterling selectman, led a delegation from that community, where Chief Justice Rugg was born and where he died Sunday.

Members of the Worcester County Bar Association and friends of the chief justice were ushered. Bar associations throughout the state sent delegations, as did the American Antiquarian Society, which was one of Chief Justice Rugg's principal interests. State courts were closed today throughout the Commonwealth.

Court Officer Long Ago Predicted Honor for Rugg

Suffolk Court Officer Richard J. Murray, honorary tailbearer at funeral services for Chief Justice Arthur Prentice Rugg in Worcester, reminisced sadly today.

The soft-spoken, silver-haired court officer for more than half a century had lost a "dear friend" to the chief justice's passing.

He recalled his early friendship with the chief justice, then but a struggling young lawyer, Murray had even predicted to ex-Mayor Andrew J. Peters at that early date that young Rugg would eventually become a great jurist.

"And you know Mayor Peters told him," Murray said "Because years later when I met the chief justice at an inaugural ceremony, Peters was there again, and the chief said, 'Well, we three meet again. And it came out as you predicted it would, Mr. Murray.'"

"When I asked him what he meant, he answered, 'You made a remark one day to Peters that some day I would be sitting in the Supreme Court. Peters told me and I have never forgotten it. I had always hoped it was an accurate prediction. Well, I'm sitting on the bench now.'"

Murray always marvelled at the chief justice's capacity for hard work and attributed much of his success to that quality.

"One hot day in July when court was closing session," the court officer continued, "I wished him a pleasant vacation."

"The chief justice paused and said, 'Mr. Murray, my vacation is to work every day in the year.'"

Birds Die Despite Medical Attention

HOLLYWOOD, June 15 (AP)—It wasn't lack of medical attention that caused the death of two baby humming birds, whose mother deserted them atop a downtown office building.

Dr. Harry L. Martin and a registered nurse took the orphans under their care. Every hour the birds were fed a solution of water and honey through a hypodermic syringe.

The birds lived eight days.

Admitting she had committed more than 50 larcenies with the aid of her 10-year-old brother, a 15-year-old Lynn girl was today sentenced to an indefinite term at Lancaster Industrial School by Judge Ralph W. Reeves in Lynn court.

Before her confession of these thefts, the girl had been found guilty by Judge Reeves of attempted arson at her home on Sunday last.

Sergeant Asa Daraney of the Lynn police told the court the juvenile defendant had been mistreated by her father and until recently had been a ward of the S. P. C. C. The little brother was not in court.

Here's What to Do If Wife Can't Cook

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., June 15 (AP)—Advice from an expert:

If your wife can't cook, don't scold—take her out to dinner.

Dr. Robert C. Bernreuter, professor of psychology at Pennsylvania State College, offered it yesterday at the sixth annual school of family relationship.

He urges wives to quit worrying about promotions and fatter pay checks for hard-working husbands, adding:

"Don't bear down on your husband to inspire him to do better at the office. He realizes his limitations and constant nagging impresses him still further he is a second rater. Instead of bearing down, become coy so he may think himself first, in his wife's eyes at least."

"Remember that some men are happier and are better husbands and fathers when demoted in positions rather than promoted because of the relief from responsibilities that made them nervous and irritable."

Guard Bridge As Wires Fall

Special details of police from the Charlestown station were rushed to guard Prison Point bridge early today after a stolen car had crashed an electric light pole and wires fell across the sidewalk.

Fearing pedestrians would be injured by touching the sputtering wires, officers blocked off the sidewalk and forced traffic to pass slowly until emergency repairs had been completed.

From a registration plate found at the scene, police identified an automobile abandoned on Foss street as the one which hit the pole. William Hardy of Pleasant street, Dorchester, owner of the machine, stated it had been stolen in Roxbury last night.

Desire to Swim Proves Fatal

SOUTHBORO, June 15—A longing to swim in the swimming pool of exclusive St. Mark's School brought death to Thomas Monahan, 15-year-old State ward.

The boy's body was found in the pool, which is only for the private use of the school. Police were unable to determine how the boy gained entrance.

All 'Burned Up' Over Dry Ice

John Vasta, 14, of Edgewood street, Roxbury, was no longer curious about "dry ice."

Wondering how it would taste, John swallowed a small piece before companions at the Patrick T. Campbell School, Roxbury. The ice began to burn and John began to shout. Taken by police to City hospital, the youth was given treatment.

Free Farms For Needy, Plan Of Rep. Sawyer

A $400,000 bond issue to provide free farm homesteads "where young married couples could live and raise their families" was proposed today by State Representative Roland E. Sawyer of Ware.

He filed a petition in the legislature, offering his bond issue suggestion as a substitute for that of Governor Hurley, who has asked $2,425,000 to relieve unemployment through a program of highway work and building construction.

Representative Sawyer told the House that his plan would take 2000 families off Massachusetts relief rolls.

"These thousands of families, now on welfare, could be established on small farm homesteads, where, under state supervision and control, they could become self-sustaining, or nearly so," he said.

"Such a course would relieve welfare expense which, under present conditions, must last as long as these families live."

"The weakness of the bond issue proposals of the G. O. P. leaders and Governor Hurley is that they promise no permanent relief of unemployment."

Steel Prices Tend Toward Lower Levels

By HUGH E. BRADSHAW
(Financial Editor)

Steel prices are beginning to display a definite tendency to work toward lower price levels. When third quarter prices were announced some weeks ago there was general disappointment when schedules failed to reveal concessions and some observers insisted they were not in the offering.

This writer had quite frankly "gone out on a limb" with lower price prediction and naturally was somewhat chagrined. However, he reiterated a belief they were inevitable and is now convinced that the day of generally lower prices is not far distant.

Carnegie Illinois Steel Corp., a subsidiary of U. S. Steel, has reduced quotations on galvanized sheets and independents are expected to follow. At the same time scrap prices are seeking new lows. In the face of such clear cut trends it is extremely doubtful that other finished steel prices can be maintained. Especially when fair sized buying demand appears.

STATE ST. NOTEBOOK

The Boardmans should watch . . . Crude oil prices . . . In the belief a material softening in here would pare producers' earnings for this year materially . . . Retail store issues more carefully than consumers' goods industries . . . because the spending of relief funds will benefit them first as they can draw on both their own and manufacturers' stocks . . . and with inventories where they are this could go on for quite a while . . . without stimulating production.

The gossip says . . . That Fairchild Aviation should show between 50 and 75 cents per share this year . . . That T. H. Rorling orders are running about 14 per cent under comparable 1937 levels . . . That a good estimate on National Supply's net for this year is $2 per share . . . That U. S. Steel will show a second quarter per share deficit not far from $1 to $1.25.

MARKET CONFUSION

With Congress considering last minute efforts to get rail help, and with a state short account still outstanding, the market is in a confused condition. These two items are logically considered as good news, and the fact appears to be in a quandary as to whether or not it should emphasize them to the exclusion of actual business news. We think that if it does it will only do so temporarily.

A short upturn is possible, but unless the rail division positively breaks out of its narrow rut the move will be a dangerous one to follow. For our part we prefer to stay on the sidelines until rail and industrial show a disposition to move ahead. As matters now stand, it seems to us the market is behind the downturn in business, and anything done before the latter at least flattens out and starts up under such conditions is extremely risky.

Haney Hits New Deal Panning

By LEWIS HANEY
(Professor of Economics, New York University)

NEW YORK, June 15—Under the heavy weight of political experiments in controlling economic life, business and economic activity in May continued to shrink.

There have been other topsy-turvy periods in history. Even so, this one is especially discouraging, because it comes in a great democracy of people who can at least read and write.

It is hard to believe that in an age which does not burn witches, there could be such notions as that purchasing power can be "created" by debt, and that productive capital can exist without individual saving and investment.

One would suppose that the lesson of the great depression would sink in. Last spring, all the signals were set for a cyclical recession.

Market Is Mixed

The stock market was mixed toward the close today as light profit taking forced prices back following early upturn.

American T & T	129½-130
Anacosta	33½-34
Chrysler	41½
Gen. Edison	23½-24
Douglas	44
Gen. Electric	33½-34
Gen. Motors	28½-29
N. Y. Central	11½-12
U. S. Steel	42
Westinghouse	75½-76

But we all said, "they" will not let us down. We supposed that the social planners could at least soften and moderate a depression.

What has happened? Where are we? Why didn't they stop it? I honestly don't see how anyone can consider the record of the past 12 months, and still not see the folly of the New Deal as a system of social planning or economic control.

He won't let us down? Well, could we be any dumber? If you won't believe this, maybe you will accept some statistical facts as revealed in official May figures.

The production and shipments of steel declined, and the pig iron fell sharply. The automobile output declined sharply in May, when usually it is near peak in that month. The machine tool orders declined (adjusted) in May fell sharply and more than seasonally to a new low for the depression, and the lowest since April, 1935.

Building permits held at a level about 20 per cent under a year ago. After allowing for seasonal variation, there was a slight rise, and we may hope for some artificial stimulation here, since billions are going to the PWA, and the FHA is prepared to lend 90 per cent of the cost of residential building.

Factory employment of labor fell sharply and more than seasonally to a new low for the depression. Payrolls made an even worse showing. Very unfavorable reports came from men's clothing, leather, shoes, cotton and silk goods, hardware, and locomotive shops. There was some slump in boat and shipbuilding.

Boston After Dark

By GEORGE HOLLAND

BING CROSBY and PAT O'BRIEN plan to fly to Boston to watch the running of the Massachusetts Handicap at Suffolk Downs June 29. . . In a letter to this corner last December, Bing wrote that he might visit the East this summer. . . Word came today that the radio-star and O'Brien would fly here in company of Lindsay Howard, son of O. S. Howard, owner of Seabiscuit. . . Young Howard and Crosby operate a racing stable (The Bing-ling Stable) and were represented by the horse which ran a solid last in the Santa Anita Derby.

GEORGE HOLLAND

O'Brien will visit with his friend James Cagney, at Chilmark, and it is not unlikely that he will take a temporary abode as a summer neighbor of Cagney's. . . These two lads have been working in the leading roles of the filmization of "Boy Meets Girl" and advance word on the picture is that it is a hit.

With some lack of grace, having discounted the possibility of Seabiscuit and War Admiral hooking up at in a race this year, the New York sports-writers are admitting currently that there is an excellent chance of the two turf stars really meeting in the June 29 stake-race.

With a trade "break" between the two seasons, today's racing scene has been a little better than it has been for some time. . . A price of $12,000 has been set on the horse, the native son of the stable who has been straight at Woburn Park. . . Dr. Louis Serravallo, of East Boston, was interviewed by his friends at a bachelor dinner at the University club, as right. He pours the libations to his friends.

Museum Piece

While browsing around backstage at Jordan Hall, where Gertrude Dolan's clever pupils were rehearsing their dance routines for next Monday night's recital, a piece of very old scenery was discovered. . . On the back of one flat was the stencil, Mr. George Edwards' Co. in The Duchess of Danzig. . .

Also a notice to the company, viz: "SILENCE must be observed behind the SCENES during the entire performance. . . All entrances must be kept closed and NO ONE is allowed to stand in the FIRST ENTRANCE without special permission" . . . It was signed: "Holbrook Blinn, Stage Director" . . .

Nostalgia! Holbrook Blinn, original Pancho Lopez in "The Bad Man," died in June, 1928, at Chilmark, Hudson. . . How far back does "George Edwards' Co. in The Duchess of Danzig" carry a reader's recollection? . . . Available annals of the theater include no mention of the star or play.

Once Over Lightly

This column's suggestion that the Red Sox or Bees, or both, schedule a "Fathers and Sons Day," has met with such a cordial response that it seems the event could be a real success. . . Letters and postcards received at this desk are being forwarded to Secretary Phil Troy, of the Red Sox. . . Sheila Barrett sends her regards by post from London. . . Will Hudson, whose orchestra begins broad casting from New England points today, has changed his band's theme song from "Hobo on Park Avenue" to "Sophisticated Swing." . .

Billy Lessor, the bandman is planning a voyage to London and a safari to Africa. . . Believe it or not, a clique of handicappers in the Suffolk Downs Paddock Club work on the theory that horses run faster around the East Boston oval when the tide is low. . . They can back up their theory, but the exposition would use up too much space. . .

George A. Sullivan, Jr. of Boston and Mr. Sullivan, Jr. of New England, are the only two Sullivans in the world who are both in the same line of business. . . The former, president of the Suffolk Downs Paddock Club, and the latter, president of the Suffolk Downs Paddock Club, are the only two Sullivans in the world who are both in the same line of business. . .

Atty. Joseph L. Kaplan, of Boston, is a possible candidate for district attorney of Suffolk County. . . "Three Blind Mice" at Keith's Memorial, and "Three Comrades" at Lee's State and Orpheum needed another title with the word "three" at one of the other important theaters to make good the adage "all good things and bad, come in threes." . . These pictures are good. . . Eva La Gallienne will star under the management of Providence's Eddie Dowling in a play concerning Marie Antoinette next fall and Boston will be the probable opening city. . . Sgt. Ariel H. Dunham, of the Boston police, is suffering two cracked ribs as a result of a rescue-leap from the police boat.

Jake "Candy Boy" Putkin, aide to the turf writers in the press-boxes of the New England racing circuit, has given an engagement ring to Miss Sally Koretsky, of Malden. . .

Feared Violence in CIO Invasion, Says Hague

As Mayor Hague Appeared on Witness Stand

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEWARK, N. J., June 15 (INS).—Mayor Frank Hague declared on the witness stand today that he was "protecting the people" of Jersey City when he prevented representatives of the CIO from distributing union circulars. He said he feared disorder, possibly bloodshed.

Frankly, the immaculately dressed mayor admitted, he knew his corporation counsel, James H. Hamilton, had written to William C. Sullivan, regional director of the CIO in New Jersey, advising him that the CIO was coming to Newark. The mayor said that he knew what had happened in Flint, in Detroit and other cities.

"I knew what had happened in Flint, in Detroit and other cities," said Hague.

Hague, known as the "Boss" of Newark, said he never got ruffled by the CIO invasion.

A political cartoon by Robert Crumb. A man, seen from behind, is wading through a turbulent sea. He is wearing a tank top with the words "U.S. FOREIGN POLICY" on the back and dark shorts. His arms are outstretched for balance. The sea is depicted with dark, swirling lines and is labeled "PROPAGANDA" and "SUBTLE" in large, bold letters. In the background, a dark, stormy sky is labeled "OLD WORLD ENTANGLEMENTS". The cartoon is signed "Robert Crumb" in the bottom left corner.

Nancy Nichols
Has Acting Flair

By BETTY ALDEN

MAKING her debut and having a fling at social life is only incidental to attractive Nancy Nichols, who has a definite flair for acting and aspirations to embark upon a theatrical career.

Nancy makes her debut this afternoon at a garden party given by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wolcott . . . and, after attending a round of parties for her sister's debut this month, she will pack her bags and leave for the Berkshires to study dramatics at the Bishop Lee Drama School.

Nancy is receiving, this afternoon, with her mother, Mrs. Edward M. Guild and Mrs. Wolcott in the garden of the Wolcott estate in Brookline . . . where masses of summer flowers form a colorful background for the debutante's filmy garden party frock of white mousseline de soie appliqued with small white flowers with green centers . . . Her shoes and slippers are green and she is carrying a small bouquet of pastel flowers . . .

Mrs. Guild's gown of navy blue is appliqued with pink flowers and her large navy hat is trimmed with pink . . . Mrs. Wolcott has chosen a gray ensemble with dumbo hat and accessories . . .

Edith Oakes, of St. Paul, a classmate of Nancy's at Abbot Hall School, in the South, has come on for the festivities and, among the pourers are Emily Rice, Gwendolyn Lee, Mary Louise French, Lewis Watson, Nancy Lawson and Olivia Thorne . . . Others include Katharine MacAuland, Anna Goffin, Emma Lang, Janet Pierce and Prudence Wellman . . .

Radcliffe commencement exercises are affording Captain and Mrs. Charles Gordon Smith of New York, an excellent opportunity to renew friendships established a few years ago when Captain Smith was stationed at the Boston Navy Yard . . . Mrs. Smith's daughter, Katie Chappell, is a senior at Radcliffe and, Sunday afternoon she and the Smiths are giving a cocktail party at the Charlesgate for their many Boston friends . . . Katie made her debut here several winters ago at a dance at the Ritz Carlton . . .

Benton Silver Wedding Celebration

Many a toast will be proposed to Mr. and Mrs. Jay Rogers Benton tomorrow evening at the informal supper and dance they are giving to celebrate their silver wedding anniversary . . . Nearly one hundred guests will join in the merriment with the young Bentons, Mary, John, Peter, Nicholas and David, all on hand to celebrate with their parents.

Guests will include the Alfred Strickleys, Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop E. Jamieson, Colonel and Mrs. William J. Keefe, Mr. and Mrs. William Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sawyer and the Edward Bakers.

Mrs. Whipple Fry's flair for giving unusual parties for her youngsters will be given full sway in arranging a tea on June 20th for her niece, Marietta Withington, and the latter's sister, debutante Miller, of Plymouth . . . The party, which will wind up the June debutante festivities, will be held at Ye Olde Cape Codder in Centerville where the combination of salty Cape Cod atmosphere and Russian decorations and refreshments will give the debutants a new slant on summer entertaining . . .

IF MOTHERS ONLY KNEW. Many children become infested with Intestinal Round Worms (Ascaris Lumbricoides) -- the most common human parasites, but are sometimes treated for other illnesses. If Round Worms are suspected--Remember:

SINCE 1851 mothers have given children Dr. True's Elixir, the True Family Laxative and Round Worm Expeller to expel Round Worms when present and because it is a mild laxative, agreeable to taste. At Druggists.

Austen Lake Says

Schmeling in Restrained Action vs. Inept Mates

SPECULATOR, N. Y., JUNE 15—THE times lack logic, and you are finding the same fight journalists who, one and all, wrote bold opinions that Max Schmeling was a hollow shell before he fought Joe Louis in 1936, are pretty hush-mouthed and mumbly in their predictions for next Wednesday night.

A beaten fighter is always a discredited fighter in the eyes of the experts, so the press gallery which sat around Max's open air booth today and grunted cornerwise lip-service about his marble muscles, his sleek torso and the electric whizz of his reflexes, are identically the same group which wrote from Napanoch, N. Y., that he had all the ponderosity of a blacksmith.

If there is any virtue in consistency, the journalists who felt justified in reporting how bad he looked before the previous business cannot be justified in reporting how much of a lethal gee-whizz he looks now. Because he looks about the same.

The fact is that Schmeling is working with the most inept set of spartiffs which could be handpicked from the unemployed derelicts of any fight gymnasium. Your Aunt Julie in her bustle could lick them all without taking off her lace mittens.

TO THE EDITOR: I have been reading your article about Max Schmeling and his fight with Joe Louis. I am sure that you are right in your opinion that Schmeling is a great fighter. I am sure that you are right in your opinion that Schmeling is a great fighter. I am sure that you are right in your opinion that Schmeling is a great fighter.

Same Old Right Hand Puncher

It was amazing that a man could be rendered dizzy so suddenly, and stay vertical so long. And even when Joe did go under ether he took one last sleepy look toward his corner for any last message from Jack Blackburn before submitting to slumber.

I still think that if he had doled the punishment worth the crime of remaining erect, even in his extremity, have prolonged his suffering.

I am sure that Schmeling has as good a right for victory as any other man in the world. I am sure that Schmeling has as good a right for victory as any other man in the world. I am sure that Schmeling has as good a right for victory as any other man in the world.

Vander Meer Never a Bee

Francis Guimet, captain of the United States Walker Cup team, Johnny Fischer, ex-national fifthholder, and Bill Danforth arrived home last night. Francis stated he never enjoyed himself more on any trip abroad and, although he was disappointed over leaving the famous trophy in England, he feels that interest in the event will be stimulated through the British victory.

Fischer and Danforth lived to the Cape where Johnny will prime his game for the Mass. open championship at Oyster Harbors. Johnny Vander Meer was not the property of the Braves when Bob Quinn took over the local club. He had been cast adrift by Bill McKechnie. And for the benefit of the expert who told Bob Quinn up with the passing up of Johnny Vander Meer, a decade ago, a yellow golf ball, which I believe was known as Tiger, was on the market. Right, you're wrong again, Tex. Danforth ended the career of the yellow golf balls.

The announcement that J. Vander Meer, Sebastian Sisti, the sensation Francis Guimet at Buffalo schoolboy, was to be at National League field yesterday was a terrific premature. Sebastian was graduated from Canisius High School yesterday and will report tomorrow. Incidentally, Sisti's father played football for Cornell in the fall of 1918, entered the navy and did not return to college after the war. Arthur Johnson, who pitched such fine ball for Winchester High School, worked out with the Bees yesterday. Although he has yet to develop a curve ball, Johnson is a fine looking prospect for he has an abundance of speed and excellent control. He's a racy 19 year old and made a fine impression with Manager Casey Stengel. For the first time in 17 years, the Woodland Golf Club is champion of the Boston Four Ball League. Capt Joe Lynn Woodlanders accomplished that feat at Wollaston by beating Oakley 19 to 12, while Brice Burn, which entered the final match leading by one point, was unable to win by better than 11 to 4 over Winchester. Greyhounds Show } Large Crowds at
Speed at Revere } Wonderland Park

By JACK CONWAY

IT WAS A perfect night, and I motored from Jamaica Plain to Wonderland Park, Revere, to see the dog races. When I arrived at my destination I found 12,000 other people were also interested in seeing the greyhounds run.

For three races I devoted most of my time walking through the huge crowd in front of the grandstand, looking over the fans parked in the right field bleachers, and watching the expressions on the faces of those persons who were either purchasing or cashing mutual tickets.

It was a gay, carnival gathering. Judging by the types of people at Wonderland Park dog racing appeals to the old and to the young, to men and to women alike.

I like the life and action one gets from such a crowd. It is easy to forget the ordinary cares of life as one mingles with this surging gathering under for a good time under the stars, and with their faces fanned by the sea breezes from the Atlantic.

There are more young people at the dog track than one finds at the horse track in the afternoon. They are people who have jobs, and they are unable to get off from their employment other than on Saturdays and on holidays. So they take in the dog races at night.

Russ Murray moved around Wonderland Park and through the big crowd like a general. He gave quick, precise orders when they were needed, and at other times enjoyed the races and greeted his friends. It was Russ who first organized Wonderland Park, and the smooth manner in which its operations work speaks well for his ability at management.

Public Gets Close-Up of Racing

I SAW MY first dog race in New Orleans a dozen years ago. I later attended numerous dog races in Florida.

The ability to get a close-up of the action appealed to me in New Orleans and in Florida. The same condition prevails at Wonderland Park. The spectators are able to get a clear view of each race from any section of the park.

I walked out back of the grandstand and listened to the excited barks of the greyhounds as they awaited the call to competition. I watched them being weighed and checked by the Bertillon system under the supervision of the officials of the association and of the Massachusetts Racing Commission.

Then came the parade to the track with Revere High school football players dressed in natty uniforms leading the greyhounds. My blood tingled as the band played, and the greyhounds moved in the direction of the starting boxes.

The mutual betting odds with the total amount of money wagered flashed on the board.

I was surprised at the large amounts of money wagered. The average bet, however, was for only $2 and in many cases two and sometimes four persons contributed to the wager. There are few plungers at dog tracks. It is a sport for the masses.

SPARKY WAS on the track warming up, and in a few seconds the greyhounds were in hot pursuit. Arthur Duffey, the favorite, was moving up rapidly. Hitting the far turn, Arthur Duffey cut loose with a terrific burst of speed much like Arthur Duffey, the runner, used to do years ago and again.

The crowd cheered the greyhound when he was led back to the judges' stand.

George Funk Discusses Dog Racing

I MET George Funk, one of the leading spirits in the Revere track. George installed the ice system at the Boston Garden, and at most of the other big arenas in this country.

"The public likes dog racing," said Funk. "It furnishes them a healthy form of amusement, and plenty of thrills. In addition to these people who bet, we have 2000 to 3000 visitors each night. Many of these people witness their first dog race at our track, and they usually go away boasting the sport."

"Shorty" Davis, of Dartmouth fame, told me of the great crowds that attend dog racing in England. The paid attendance at dog racing in England last year was 14,000,000. Davis says that in England all persons who attend dog races pay for the privilege other than the working press.

At Wonderland Park it is mostly a free gate. There is a service charge of 10 cents on the tickets which have a price of 40 cents. Everybody appears to have plenty of passes.

The dog people believe in the free show. The 15 per cent mutual take, with 11 1/2 per cent for the track and 3 1/2 per cent for state, leaves enough profit for everybody associated with Wonderland Park.

On my way under the grandstand I saw Sheldon Fairbanks, prominent horseman and former general manager of the Boston Garden, rushing for a mutual window. I seized Sheldon by the arm.

"So you also take in the dog races," I said good naturedly. "I had a poor day at the horse track and am down trying to get even," declared Fairbanks laughingly, and was on his way to buy a mutual ticket on his selection.

A few minutes later there was a cry from the track of "There goes Sparky," and everybody was once more rooting for their dog to come down in front.

Casey Retains Mat Title

Steve Casey successfully defended his world heavyweight wrestling championship and scored his most impressive mat victory when he conquered Yvon Robert in two out of three falls before 6,000 persons at the Garden.

Robert won the first toss in 11m. 50s. Casey the second in 2m. 13s. and the giant Celt the third in 11m. 17s.

It was a hard, stirring battle with Casey knocking Robert out with a savage right hand punch to the jaw to pave the way for the winning fall.

Robert set a dizzy pace in the early stages of the contest. He finally nailed Steve with his famous merry-go-round hold, which is a combination arm lock, grapevine, bar and top body press.

After whirling Casey around the ring half a dozen times, the Frenchman cracked the Irishman's shoulder to the canvas.

Back on the mat, Robert applied the same hold quickly. Casey reversed the hold, counted with a short arm scissors and body press and pinned Robert in the surprisingly fast time of 2m. 13s.

Both wrestlers were more cautious when hostilities were resumed. Finally Casey got rough, and belted Robert around with solid left and right hand blows to the head and body.

Robert, who used to be a heavyweight boxer, came back with smashing lefts and rights to the jaw.

Casey was forced back against the ropes. Steve suddenly cut loose with an overhand right-hand punch to the jaw that dropped Robert cold flat on his back.

Casey jumped on his prostrate opponent and pinned him for the winning toss. Referee Sam Smith then declared Casey the winner.

Dick Shikat of Germany, using a strange hold and also employing eye-gouging tactics, defeated Dan O'Mahoney in 24 minutes 43 seconds. Shikat tossed Danno out of the ring twice.

Danzler Clark, who sails for Scotland on Saturday, and Pat Reilly went 20 minutes to a draw.

Wladyslaw Talon tossed John Maloney of South Boston in 5 minutes 23 seconds.

Wladet Zbyszko and Charley Strack were on even terms at the end of 15 minutes.

Maurice Robert defeated Frank Doyle in 8 minutes 44 seconds.

McCoy-Pastor Winner May Get Title Shot

The boxing spotlight will be swung on the Boston Garden ring next Monday night before shifting to the Yankee Stadium, for out of the depot pulpit may stride the next contender for the world's heavyweight championship at the finish of the Al McCoy-Bob Pastor bout, 10-round feature of the Goodwin A. C. boxing show.

It developed today that the Pastor-McCoy fight winner will move close to the top of several candidates gunning for a fall shot at the victor in the Joe Louis-Max Schmeling title battle two nights after the fight, here, Boston's first "big league" heavyweight fight in several years.

ROOTING FOR MCCOY

Boxing Boss Mike Jacobs & Co. are hoping it's McCoy. In fact they are rooting for a knockout victory by McCoy, New England heavyweight champion, over the New York Jewish "white hope."

They remember how close Pastor came to ruining Louis and likewise ruining the man who's restored the $1,000,000 fight gate.

They'd just as soon not have Pastor in with the elite, but Bob has punched his way right to the top again and if he kayoes McCoy they won't very well be able to slam the door in his face.

Since the night when he breezed 10 rounds with Louis, Pastor has gained experience, weight, a lot of confidence, skill and a deadening punch with which he stopped Bob Neezell and Ray Impellitteri.

He might beat Louis in a return bout and this, according to the angle, would be very bad since J. J. Johnston, hostile to Jacobs & Co., is Pastor's manager.

MCCOY IN TRIM

Pastor has developed into a wild, walk-in, two-fisted fighter under Johnston. He wasn't quite so sure of himself that night against Louis and admits it today. But he insists it would be an entirely different story should he get another crack at the crown.

McCoy is reported looking like a million at Stillman's gym in New York.

He's lost all the extra flesh which slowed him somewhat; the spare tire around the midriff and the extra weight through the shoulders and arms has been sliced, and Al is ready for the fight of his life.

Need Camera For Dash Event

MINNEAPOLIS, June 15 (AP)—It begins to look as though the cameras will be called into use to decide the winners of some of the track events in the National Collegiate meet here Friday and Saturday.

In the 100 yard dash department, there are 42 entrants whose best previous times for the event vary only half a second between the fastest and slowest. Seven of them have covered the distance in .09.5, just one-tenth of a second slower than the world's record, and nine others have done .09.6.

The situation in the 220-yard dash is similar, with only a second between the best times of the first and last of 24 sprinters. In the quarter mile, there are an even half dozen entries who have covered the distance in 47 seconds in previous meets.

AMHERST, June 15 (AP)—Amherst's baseball squad upset the barnstorming University of California nine, scoring a 6 to 3 victory over the Bears.

Indulge in at a country club dance, his shoulders and brisket glistened with little rivulets which ran down his spine and made splashes on his thighs.

Max looks lean.

There are no adipose bulges above the elastic tape of his trunk tops.

His skin is smooth tight and burned a piceurist brown.

His arm and shoulder muscles do not jerk with middle-aged slack when he tosses his punches.

Still, he does not look impressive, though I hasten to say, before you do, that he certainly does not look less impressive than he did at Napanoch two years back before he hung a catalogue on Louis' jaw.

When it was over, Yussel Jacobs, who doubles as interlocutor and camp greeter, made an impromptu address to the journalist on the porch of the Osborne Hotel in which he adjured the press not to be deceived if Max merely indulged in some air pawings and perfunctory pushes to the puz.

He wished to warn the experts that they would not see any genuine samples of the German's art until next Wednesday night because he had achieved a plateau of physical perfection whence there are no higher levels. He wishes merely to keep his perfect pink.

"And now," invited Yussel, slanting his cigar at a battle angle and hitching his plaid tam-o'-shanter over one ear, "it is time to relax. If anybody wishes a little shock, the same may be had by repelling, one or severally, to the beverage room."

His knees were badly bruised in the ensuing rush.

Cronin Praises Bees' New Rookie

By WALTER KILEY

Several of the scribes following the Cubs are certain that Dizzy Dean has pitched his last game of the year.

But Manager Charlie Grimm indignantly denies it.

"He should join us before the present trip is over," Cholly insists.

But he also discloses that the specialists are looking for an arm infection in the pitching muscles.

When the Cubs were last here, Grimm insisted that Dean would be ready to pitch in the matter of days. When we met him at Wrigley Field he predicted another week.

Now the future is still uncertain, and our guess is that the big boy won't see any more service this year.

Which led one sage observer to remark in Chicago:

"If Dean is worth $183,000 to the Cubs, then this fellow Bill Lee must be worth a half million."

Art Kenney, recent pitching mainstay of Holy Cross, has now been officially signed, sealed and delivered to the Bees.

The 70-pound southpaw set his John Hancock to a Bob Quinn contract with newspapermen as witnesses at the Beehive headquarters.

Kenney won seven and lost two games this year. He was beaten by Providence and Brown. He struck out 12 Boston College batters in one game.

Sebastian Sista, brilliant Canisius high school infielder from Buffalo, will report to the Bees within a day or two. He stands six feet, weighs 175, plays short and third, and when he was working out with the Red Sox not long ago, Manager Joe Cronin reported him the best looking young hitter he had ever seen.

Billy Weir, sent home by Old Case from Pittsburgh, goes to the Hartford farm today, joining the club at Albany. The former New Hampshire University southpaw goes on a 24-hour optional recall at his own request. Weir feels that the chance to pitch twice a week will bring back his control.

Gene Moore's leg was X-rayed at the insistence of President Quinn, and nothing of serious nature was discovered. The trouble is a sprain, evidently, and a week's rest is expected to make him ready for his right field position.

Cincinnati fans are pulling for Frank McCormick and Johnny Vander Meer to be named to All-Star roles for the forthcoming game at the Reds' park.

McCormick, the big first base rookie sensation who rode to Albany with the Bees on their return trip home, says he is far more interested in the continued success of the Redlegs than he is of making the All-Stars.

The Reds, whose train broke down and forced them to postpone their opening game with Brooklyn yesterday, passed up a chance to come East on the Bees' special, figuring that they had an extra day to spend at home.

Tickets for the All-Star game are at a premium in Cincy. There were 140,000 applications and only 20,000 available reserved seats.

Anyone with drag around Crosley Field is being hounded for tickets. Those who applied for large numbers of seats are getting only a fraction of their demands.

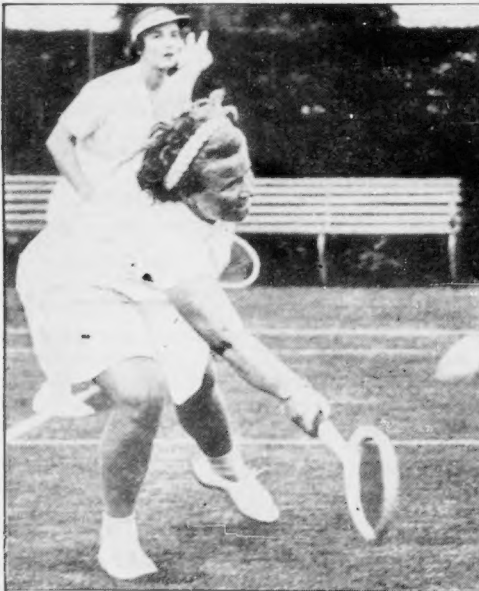

Cincinnati fans are all agog over a chance at seeing Joe DiMaggio and some of the American League stars who never come to the city.

While Justin Stein, new rookie infielder recently acquired by Bill McKeechnie, broke away to an auspicious start against the Bees, there are many experts who insist the youngster cannot stay up in big league competition.

As Titans of the Waves Prepare for Battle

THE THAMES RIVER will flow crimson or blue on June 24 when the Harvard and Yale crews duel for the Eastern intercollegiate championship, for neither shell has suffered defeat for the entire season. The crack Blue boat above lines up in the following order: Bow, Cross, 2, Livingston; 3, Frost; 4, L. Johnson, captain; 5, Weed; 6, Ruprecht; 7, Manning; stroke, H. Johnson, and coxswain, Byers.

Ignore Miss Jacobs In Draw

LONDON, June 15 (AP)—Donald Budge of California, the American and Wimbledon champion, and Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, now in the midst of a comeback attempt, were officially favored to win the Wimbledon singles championships when the British Lawn Tennis Association seeded them first in today's draw.

MEN, WOMEN DRAW

Other singles stars were seeded in this order:
 Women—Alice Marble, former American champion; Mlle. J. Jedrzejowska of Poland, last year's runner-up; Frau Svend Sperling of Germany; Mme. Rene Mathlet of France; Kay Stammers of England; Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fry of the victorious American Wightman Cup team, and Margaret Scriven of England.

Men—H. W. Austin, England; Roderich Menzel, Czechoslovakia; Henner Henkel, Germany; Ferenc Puscec, Yugoslavia; Dimitri Mitic, Yugoslavia; Ladislav Hecht, Czechoslovakia, and Kho Sin Kie, China.

The surprise of the seedings came in the women's division, where both Helen Jacobs, former British and American champion, and Anita Lizana of Chile, the 1937 American titleholder, went unranked.

BUDGE, MAKO ON TOP

For men's doubles, Budge and Gene Mako were rated at the top, followed by Hecht and Menzel, Puscec and Mitic and Henkel and Georges Von Metaxa, the Viennese. Mme. Mathieu and Adelaide (Billy) York of England headed the women's doubles field, with Miss Marble and Mrs. Fabyan No. 2; Evelyn Dearman and Joan Ingram of England, No. 3, and Mrs. Bobbie Heine Miller and Margaret Morphet of South Africa, No. 4. In mixed doubles, Budge and Miss Marble were placed at No. 1.

INDIANS CURBED

CLEVELAND, June 15 (AP)—Manager Ozzie Viti was slapped a midnight curfew on his Cleveland Indians, who have been slipping in the American League until today they held first place by a slim half game.

HARVARD'S varsity terrors of the deep line up in their battlegroup on the Thames river in the following order: Coxswain, Edward T. White; stroke, James F. Chace; 7, Robinson Stevens; 6, Douglas Erickson; 5, John H. Gardiner; 4, Walter N. Kernan; 3, Dudley Talbot; 2, John R. Richards, and bow, John R. Clark.

Williams, Romani Try Comebacks

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—Record or near-record performances are usually a dime a dozen at the Princeton Invitation track meet, but two of the athletes, Archie San Romani and Archie Williams, will settle for first place.

Boys are trying comebacks and neither is picking his spot. San Romani faces Glenn Cunningham, Josef Mostert, the Belgian; Gene Venzke, Blaine Riddout of North Texas teachers and Princeton's Pete Bradley in the mile. Williams meets Harold Cagle of Oklahoma Baptist, Phil Gould of Princeton, Doug Raymond of Boston U. and Wes Wallace of Fordham in his first major quarter-mile since 1936.

San Romani won this mile last year in 4:07.2 and looked ready to take over the national leadership at that distance. But last winter a spiked foot and a bad cough made him just another runner, while his best friend and arch-foe, Cunningham, went on to clean up indoors.

BEST CONDITIONS

Archie, who is not given to idle words, is immensely confident he can take Glenn and shatter the world's record while doing it. "I'm completely recovered and I'm running as fast or faster than ever before," says Archie. "We ought to have a real race."

Two years ago there wasn't a quarter-mile around where could carry Williams' spikes. He ran for the University of California and won the Pacific Coast conference, the National Collegiate A. A. and the Olympic 400-meter mark of :46.1 in the N. C. A. A. championships and ran :46.5 in winning the Olympic crown.

A pulled thigh muscle put him on the shelf, but now, with the muscle healed, he is back at Princeton, a big, husky Negro, stepping off fast 300 and 360-yard trials. His time trials in the quarter out on the Coast were plenty fast.

THOMPSON BETTER

CHICAGO, June 15 (AP)—Outfielder Ruppert Thompson of the White Sox, who underwent an emergency appendicitis operation here, was reported as being in "good" condition today.

Louis' Infighting Improved--Tunney

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., June 15 (AP)—Joe Louis drilled impressively for the second straight time here before nearly 2000 fans and two ex-heavyweight champions, Gene Tunney and Jim Braddock.

The champion battered Basher Dean, Leonard Dixon and Jim Howell around the ring for two rounds each and impressed Tunney. "Joe still has difficulty getting away from a right hand," declared Gene, "but he is fast on the counter and putting plenty of power behind his blows."

"He has shortened his left hook a lot since I last saw him, and he has improved a lot in his infighting. He seems to be in marvelous physical condition."

Tunney refused to predict a winner.

Brooklyn

Fans Take Notice

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—Bill Terry, the New York Giant's manager, who once got himself into a peck of trouble by asking, "Is Brooklyn still in the league?" apparently hasn't been cured of the habit of wise-cracking about the Dodgers.

Someone asked him if he intended to see Brooklyn's first night game tonight and Bill replied: "Yes, I've always wanted to see Jesse Owens run."

Owens is scheduled to give a few exhibitions preliminary to the game.

Dear, Deer Barred From Links

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., June 15 (AP)—Golfers at the Broadmoor course don't have to worry about the deer any more. It used to be the deer came down out of the mountain canyons a good midiron shot across the road. They would dig up the fairways and tear up the sand traps.

But the damage they did to the greens was even worse. Mrs. Joseph P. Pollard, of Colorado Springs, of the arrangements committee for the tournament, said today:

"The deer would lie on the greens on winter nights, warming the grass with their bodies," she said. "Then, when they left at sunrise, the frost would hit the warmed-up greens and raise the mischief with them."

But now the deer can't get in. A high wire fence encircles course and clubhouse.

Crushed to Death In Maine Accident

HAVERHILL, June 15—Crushed when their car hurtled off a Maine highway as they were rushing to attend a friend's funeral, two prominent Haverhill business men were dead today.

Frank J. Kiley, 35, of Elmwood avenue, Bradford, was instantly killed in the midnight crash at New Gloucester, Me., and Edward Conway, 25, of Fourth avenue, Haverhill, died a few hours later of a fractured skull in Lewiston Hospital.

With Mrs. Kiley, they were traveling on the Portland-Auburn road when their car skidded on a wet spot on the highway. Conway, the driver, struggled to hold to the road, but the machine hit the ditch and spun end over end.

A few hours later the trio were to have attended the funeral in Lewiston of a nurse who had cared for Mrs. Kiley in former years. Mrs. Kiley, badly injured in the crash, had left a sick bed to go to the funeral of her old friend.

Back home in Bradford, Kiley and his wife had left their two children, Frank, Jr., 9, and Marilyn, 7, who are victims of scarlet fever. Mrs. Kiley was held at the hospital for observation.

Kiley and Conway were associated in operating the Lowell Cutting Die Company on Essex street, Haverhill.
